++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with scattered heavy showers. Risk of thunderstorms.

Today:
A cloudy day for most, with scattered showers throughout the morning and afternoon. Showers potentially quite heavy with risk of thunderstorms. Towards the end of the day these showers may ease, especially in the south, but risk of thunderstorms remains. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered showers, mostly light but risk of thunderstorms, through the first half of the night. Widespread light showers or rain, locally heavy, moving in from the west later. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Friday:
Unsettled and generally rather cloudy. Scattered showers, locally heavy, easing towards the end of the day. Extended sunny spells may allow heavy showers to develop locally, with risk of thunderstorms. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Saturday starting cloudy but turning brighter through the day, though light showers remain possible. Sunday and Monday cloudy with patchy rain with a risk of heavier rain and thunderstorms.
